It is with great sadness that the Woolf Institute learns of the passing of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II. As Defender of the Faith and Supreme Governor of the Church of England, Her Majesty took an interest in all faith communities, regularly meeting religious and community leaders, encouraging dialogue and understanding.

Her Majesty led the country and the Commonwealth in many ways, not least in fostering interfaith dialogue and tolerance.

The Institute has been honoured to have collaborated closely with these eminent leaders over the years. Our thoughts are especially with our Patron, Her Royal Highness Princess Anne and all the Royal Family.

May Her Majesty's memory be for a blessing.
Living in Harmony Teachers’ Seminar

The Living in Harmony team has created a dynamic outreach programme based on research from the project to teach students across England about faith communities and coexistence through music. Currently, we offer fun and engaging workshops that provide students a unique experience of Middle Eastern music, religion and history. We are now also providing training for teachers who are interested in expanding their knowledge of interfaith relations and acquiring new tools and lesson plans for the classroom.

PODCAST SUMMER SPECIAL: QANON AND SEX

Extracts from two of our favourite episodes, combined into a Summer Special covering QAnon and Sex...

We’ve taken extracts from two of our favourite episodes, and combined them into a Summer Special episode covering QAnon and Sex. So settle down and listen in. QAnon, the idea that a pizza joint in Washington is a centre for child abuse, has become close to being a mainstream proposition for conspiracy obsessed radio jocks in the USA. Ruth Lawlor and Alfred Moore explain. And when it comes to sex, the relatively new phenomenon of gender dysphoria presents another problem for religious traditionalists. Sonia Leach and Shanon Shah survey the territory...
